

BRIAN BORU'S WAKE

Saturday
26th April
8pm

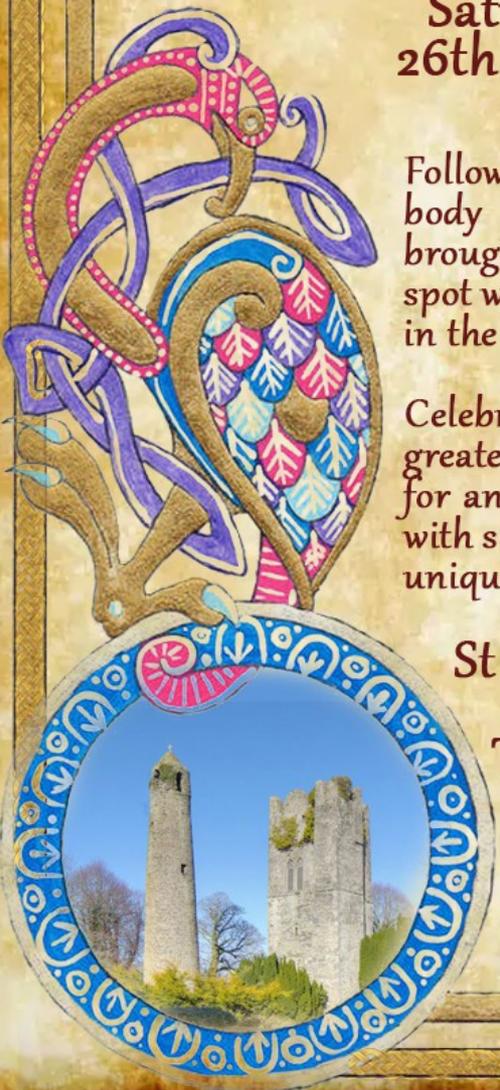

Following the Battle of Clontarf in 1014, the body of the High King of Ireland was brought to Swords Abbey to be waked, at the spot where St Columba's Church now stands, in the shadow of the round tower.

Celebrate the life of Brian Boru, Ireland's greatest High King, through music. Join us for an epic evening of Celtic entertainment with singers, pipers, harpists and more in an unique historic setting.

St Columba's Church Swords

Tickets €20 at eventbrite.ie

HOSTED BY THE FRIENDS OF
ST COLUMBA'S

WITH SUPPORT FROM
Comhairle Contae
Fhine Gall
Fingal County
Council

Scroll for our featured artists

FEATURED ARTISTS

PLUS MORE TO BE CONFIRMED!

Fiona Gryson (harp),
Caoilfhionn Ní Scoiái (concertina),
Sorcha Ní Scoiái (sean-nós & pipes), Darragh Ó Héiligh
(uilleann pipes), and (centre)
Róisín O'Connor (fiddle).

Scroll for more information

A CELTIC CELEBRATION

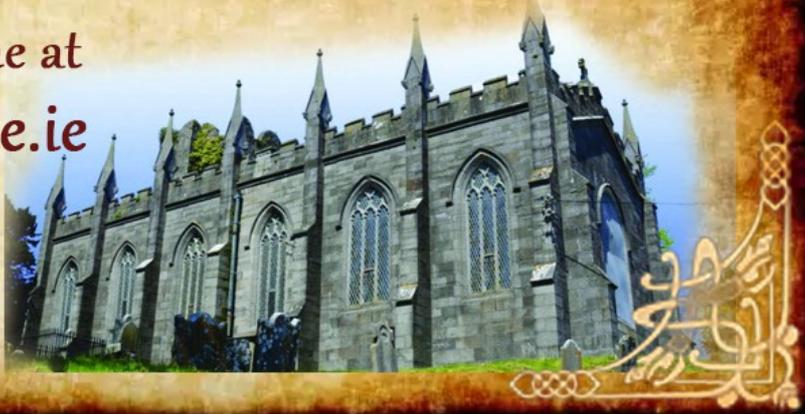

In this showcase of traditional Irish music, you will find formal playing, complex technique and wild flat-to-the-mat entertainment! Our exciting line up of musicians includes:

-  Award-winning freelance harpist, harp teacher, and recording artist Fiona Gryson who has played with the RTE Symphony & Concert Orchestras,
-  All-Ireland Fleadh Ceoil 2022 winner Caoilfhionn Ní Scoiái on the concertina,
-  Eight-time All-Ireland winning sean-nós singer and uilleann piper Sorcha Ní Scoiái,
-  Internationally recognised multi-instrumentalist Darragh Ó Héiligh on the uilleann pipes, and
-  Traditional Music Young Musician of the Year 2023 Róisín O'Connor who has played at Carnegie Hall, New York.

Plus more to be confirmed. Book now for the best seats!

Call Andreas Markusson on 087 672 9423 for phone bookings

Book tickets online at www.eventbrite.ie

Thank you for reading